

Pulse exhibitors make a comeback!

Exhibitors return to Pulse in 2009

In the run up to 2009, exhibitor companies and designers that have tried other London shows in the summer dateline are now taking the informed decision to stick with Pulse! The show is proud to welcome them back, and Clarion Retail look forward to creating an inspirational show for exhibitors and visitors alike. Now in its seventh year, Pulse is an established and trusted show and is the place to discover brand new suppliers, ideas and talent that simply cannot be seen anywhere else.

"Having tried other summer shows, it has been proven that Pulse is held in the best venue and at the right time for us to showcase our products and meet new and current buyers. That is why we will be returning to Pulse in 2009." Josie Sonne, Greengate (exhibiting at Pulse 2009)
